If the product Id is "create" /products/create/ will open create_view because Django uses the first matching URL pattern, not details_view

To view the product with Id "create" I can avoid the collision by using path("products/id/<str:id>/", details_view) then /products/id/create/ will open the product details.